

Quiz

Assessing Testamentary Capacity from a Medical Perspective

1. Is a medical diagnosis necessary in determining testamentary capacity?
 - a. Yes it is always necessary
 - b. A medical diagnosis is never made in assessing testamentary capacity
 - c. A diagnosis is just a guide as to what should be considered in determining when the testator meets the criteria set out in Banks
 - d. None of the above
2. Generally speaking, how long will an assessment of testamentary capacity typically take?
 - a. 30 mins
 - b. 3-4 hours
 - c. 1 day
 - d. 1-2 hours
3. Why are executive deficits difficult to identify?
 - a. They can only be identified by a neuropsychologist
 - b. They require a brain scan
 - c. They generally do not come up in surface conversation
 - d. None of the above

4. What percentage of those diagnosed with Mild Neurocognitive Disorder will convert to dementia within a 3-4 year period?
- a. 43%
 - b. 50%
 - c. 25%
 - d. 30%
5. One in ten people over the age of ___ suffer dementia
- a. 55
 - b. 65
 - c. 75
 - d. 70

Answers:

1. c 2. b 3. c 4. d 5. b