

Quiz

Indigenous Laws in the Contemporary Economy

1. What is the JD/JID?
 - a. A joint degree at the University of Victoria in Common Law and Indigenous Legal Orders
 - b. A joint degree at the University of Technology Sydney in Common Law and Aboriginal Law
 - c. A degree in indigenous legal orders
 - d. A degree in aboriginal studies

2. What is the purpose of indigenous legal activism?
 - a. To replace common law with indigenous laws and ways of thinking
 - b. To permit indigenous laws to prevail in indigenous areas
 - c. To take the best of what the common law way of thinking can give and combining it with the different way of thinking that indigenous stories offer.
 - d. To promote common law as the way of a forward thinking society

3. What is an example of a legal order?
 - a. The common law
 - b. Indigenous legal traditions
 - c. Statute and legislation
 - d. All of the above

4. Where is the law written?

- a. Trial transcripts
- b. Dreams
- c. Judicial Opinions
- d. All of the above

5. Where was the indigenous law research unit developed?

- a. Canada
- b. Australia
- c. The United States
- d. A collaboration between Canada, Australia and other Commonwealth countries

Answers:

1. A 2. C 3. B 4. D 5. A