

Quiz

Effective Law for Rural Governance

1. Which is an issue affecting the agricultural community with which the AgLaw Centre deals?
 - a. Rural sustainability
 - b. Indigenous agricultural interests
 - c. Governance of agricultural technology
 - d. All of the above

2. Which is an institutional problem with the way in which matters of agriculture and environmental protection are dealt?
 - a. As governments become more focused on their efficiency of function, they often just transfer problems and their costs to the community, so that their work is not making the entire system more efficient, it is just making the government sector appear more efficient
 - b. People who want to do the right thing end up causing more trouble than good
 - c. The review of processes from a 'total system point of view', as opposed to just from a government point of view
 - d. Government taking its responsibility of according fairness throughout its processes too seriously

3. What might be a solution for tackling the problems that currently occupy the agricultural space?
 - a. Co-regulation or 'hybrid regulation'
 - b. A rollback of integrity mechanisms
 - c. Less micro-supervision of system operators in order to reinstate an adequate level of system efficiency
 - d. Less accountability of system operators generally in order to reinstate an adequate level of system efficiency
4. What changes can we expect to see in the future?
 - a. More effective environmental laws
 - b. Nothing in relation to property rights, because of our Torrens system is too rigidly secured in place
 - c. Duties of care in the environmental and agricultural space becoming a big issue
 - d. A decline in the innovation and release of agricultural technologies
5. Which can be said to be a broad trend in the changing landscape of agriculture and its governance that will eventually come to reshape the law?
 - a. The proliferation of private rules, and industry standards and codes
 - b. Government becoming less important, and less powerful economically, and in turn, private law becoming increasingly important
 - c. The proliferation of new technologies in agriculture
 - d. All of the above

Answers:

1. d 2. a 3. a 4. c 5. d